Working through COVID-19

Time off policies, guidance, and teleworking tips for supervisors and employees, including a checklist for supervisors. For more information about COVID-19, visit the Emergency Management Website.

Given that this is an evolving situation, further updates may be forthcoming as circumstances change. Please know that all institution-wide decisions are being made with the health and safety of our community at the forefront, and with the best-available guidance from our local public health authorities.

Search for a Topic of Interest Below

Recommended FAQs

Browse More FAQs

- Can I telework during COVID-19?
- How can supervisors support teleworking effectively?
- What are UNC Charlotte's time off policies?
- What can I do to prepare?
- What if I, or someone in my family feels sick?
- What is teleworking and how does it differ from other forms of remote work?
- What is the university policy emergency events?
- Which jobs are suited for teleworking?