Who is responsible for determining reasonable classroom accommodations?

Tell Me

1. The Office of Disability Services is the only office on campus that determines appropriate accommodations for UNC Charlotte students at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.
2. Students with disabilities must provide appropriate documentation from their treating health care providers to Disability Services in order to establish eligibility for services.
3. Disability Services provides a wide array of support services and accommodations to remove barriers to full participation.

Related FAQs

- What is Grackle Docs?
- How can a student request a Note Taker?
- How can instructors/faculty Review and confirm receipt of accommodation letters in the DS Faculty Portal?
- How can instructors/faculty approve a requested test using the DS Faculty Portal?
- Who is responsible for determining reasonable classroom accommodations?