Who are Subject Matter Experts (SMEs)?

Tell Me

1. In the QM process, the “SME” is the faculty member who develops the online course and collaborates with instructional designers or who serves as the expert for the department if not the original faculty member who initiated the course development project.

Related FAQs

- Do I have to use the departmental payment for a faculty stipend?
- Does my department need to pay the review fee?
- Are chairs responsible for the course preparation and obtaining final certification?
- Why is the department chair listed on the contract, while faculty are actually developing and teaching the course?
- Does the same faculty member have to pilot teach, develop the course, and support the course throughout QM certification?